Dear the Vintner's Daughter team,

Hello! I have been somewhat familiar with your vineyard for a while, as my father, Scott Gledhill, owns and runs Wimbaliri Wines. I see your green and cream shed from the top of the hill every day, I remember it specifically over all the other sheds because I once visited when I was very little.

I have grown up here since 2010 (I am 18), and am familiar with most of the jobs that occur in the operations of a vineyard. I think the only job I haven't done at some point is spraying.

I am attending university full time so I can't work standard 8 hour days, but I have a decent amount of spare time (at the moment on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday) and am totally free on the weekend. I have a long holiday coming up and can change my classes next term to have entirely free days.

I would prefer to do the vineyard job as I like being outside but am fully qualified to do the sales job, although I have not done sales before.

I also have a job at Eden Road Wines although work is sporadic. My minimum rate for any work is the award rate I get there (about $29/hour).

Yours sincerely,

William Gledhill
